LOCAL SAVERS — SPRING/SUMMER 2000

CLAIMING YOUR DISCOUNT... All you need to do to take advantage of any of these offers is tell the supplier you're a BAE SYSTEMS employee and show them your Employee Pass. (If you're based overseas, a retired employee or apprentice, use the coupon below).

As with all purchases, you need to make sure that you are happy with the service and price before you commit yourself. In particular, do check if the discount only applies to cash or cheque purchases, or specific products and services.

As with all of LifeStyle's special offers and discounts, we have tried to make the information as up to date as we can. We obviously check out every company as far as possible, but in some cases we have had to rely on details supplied by the companies themselves. So do check first before you commit yourself to anything.

This booklet contains a full list of all Local Savers valid throughout 2000.

Help us to help you!

If LifeStyle is new to you please take time to look through the Local Savers and use the coupon overleaf to let us know of any of your favourite local shops, restaurants or businesses you'd like to see offering a discount. Remember we need your help to build up savers for your local area.

Calling all sports & social organisers, club managers and employees!

Every BAE SYSTEMS employee – new, current and retired – is eligible to join one of the many sports & social associations that exist at BAE SYSTEMS sites across the country.

ABARC leads the way in organisational excellence and membership services. The organisation, whose President is BAE SYSTEMS Human Resources Director, Terry Morgan, offers advice and support on all aspects of recreation and leisure activities, and provides plenty of opportunities to meet and exchange ideas and experiences with contemporaries.

Members will be able to learn from leisure professionals at the free educational sessions on important leisure and recreation related topics as well as being able to enter any of the wide range of events catering for team and individual activities.

Regardless of age or ability we provide all employees and sports club members with the opportunity to meet colleagues and friends whilst taking part in the inter-site events. Sea angling, clay pigeon shooting and crown green bowls are just a few of the activities organised.

Simply contact your nearest representative to find out more about how to enter the special events organised just for you!
